

Custom designed with employee input, this system will augment productivity improvements and allow retirement of a number of less efficient saws. The cutting system is the first in a series of capital investments that are part of Crucible's finishing modernization plan.